Dear Nominee,
١١/ ١١/ ٢٠١٥

Each year, with the approval of the committee that oversees the application review process, our department compiles a shortlist of candidates with the required qualifications for membership in the American Chemical Society. Your name was included on the list.

It's my privilege to invite you to accept your nomination today and share the top reasons to apply for membership.

I'll get right to the point ... Whether you are looking for a source for the latest science and research, a competitive advantage in the global workforce, or access to important ideas and networks of like-minded people, we've got you covered!

ACS membership is your source for the most trusted, up-to-date science:

- Receive weekly issues of Chemical & Engineering News (C&EN), in print and online, that include developments in industry, academia, breaking news and the latest research findings in the U.S. and around the world.
- Download the free app, C&EN Mobile, to your iOS or Android device and keep up with the latest news, daily updates, analysis, and commentary.
- Utilize 25 free SciFinder® activities for personal use, from anywhere, at any time — the leading research tool for chemists. See the enclosed brochure for details.
- Access over 1 million articles and book chapters from ACS journals and publications, members-only journal subscriptions and complimentary online access to 25 articles or book chapters from the entire suite of ACS Journals, ACS eBooks, and C&EN Archives.
- ACS Publications has just introduced ACS2Go, a new mobile-optimized website that provides ACS members with access to their personal subscriptions on mobile devices.
- View searchable national meeting content anytime, anywhere even on your mobile device with ACS Presentations on Demand™. ACS members receive exclusive access to past recordings. Learn more about ACS Presentations on Demand™ on the enclosed insert.

Equally meaningful to your work – and success – will be the people you'll meet through ACS membership. ACS membership is your link to the greater chemistry universe:

- Connect with members worldwide with the ACS Network and search the online member directory of the world's largest scientific society for chemical professionals.

over please ...

- Share your research and connect with the most eminent scientists working in chemistry today at our national meetings, which occur twice a year. ACS members receive special discounted rates at ACS meetings. Join us in 2016 at our ACS National Meeting & Expositions in San Diego, California, March 13-17 and in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, August 21-25.
- Join or form an International Chemical Sciences Chapter (ICSC) to connect with colleagues and like-minded scientists in your region, and with the ACS around the world. ICSC's are currently in Hong Kong, Hungary, Malaysia, Romania, Saudi Arabia, Shanghai, South Africa, South Korea and Thailand.

Members Enjoy More Resources – and Discounts!

Make the most of all the benefits that membership offers, please complete your application at www.acs.org/ACSonDemand.

Even if you belong to other specialized professional organizations, ACS has a broad array of professional education and resources to meet your every professional need and elevate your career. Give yourself the edge on the competition in the chemistry workforce with ACS membership offerings such as:

- Discounts on professional education and leadership development courses which include the training you need to excel at your job or take your career to the next level.
- The ACS International Center™ offering access to scholarships, grants, internships, and other opportunities to bolster your experience.
- ACS Webinars™ are a weekly online event serving to connect ACS members and scientific professionals with experts and global thought leaders on relevant professional issues. ACS members receive exclusive access to the archives of past webinars.

And perhaps the most important— though least tangible – benefit is professional standing. Regardless of your specialty, there simply is no better way to signify your position within the profession than by adding this designation to your list of credentials.

So, please accept today by completing the application at www.acs.org/ACSonDemand or use the application and envelope enclosed for your convenience. We'll promptly process your application for membership and mail you a welcome package. I look forward to welcoming you as a member.
